Manager commentary

Despite a positive start to October, risk assets sold off as the month progressed, weighed down by the rapid rise in coronavirus cases across Europe and the US, and uncertainty ahead of the US Presidential election. The economic recovery from the lockdown-induced slump continued, led by China, now largely back to pre-covid levels, and the US, but faded in Europe as new and increasingly strict restrictions took their toll on spending and confidence. Of much greater certainty is the direction of monetary policy, as on-going support from the Fed, ECB and Bank of England has been signalled for the foreseeable future. However, fears about the course and impact of the virus and the scale of damage from second and potentially third waves continued to worry investors, adding to uncertainty surrounding the US election and continuing Brexit negotiations, giving cause for some short-term volatility in markets.

Global developed markets performed relatively poorly over the month, returning -3.3% with emerging markets returning 1.8%. In developed equities, Asia Pacific ex Japan had the strongest performance over the month at 2.2%, whereas Continental Europe was the laggard, returning -6.0%. The UK and US returned -5.1% and -2.9%, respectively. UK gilts returned -0.6% over the month and their investment grade counterparts returned 0.1%. US Treasuries returned -1.0%, whilst US investment grade and high yield bonds returned -0.2% and 0.5%, respectively. Oil fell -8.7% over the month, leaving it down -12.4% over the past three months.

We decided to leave asset class and manager target weights unchanged over the month.
