Peer group: Dynamic Planner Risk Profile 4. Performance is calculated on a total return basis in GBP terms. The value of the underlying funds and the income generated from them can go down as well as up, and is not guaranteed. Investors may not get back the original amount invested. The value of investments involving exposure to foreign currencies can be affected by currency exchange rate fluctuations. Past performance is not a guide to future performance.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

- Equity markets fared well in July, with global equities up 5.0% over the month. The US, UK and Japan gained 6.0%, 4.6% and 2.4% respectively, while Europe lagged returning 0.7%, but leading indicators are showing some signs of future improvement. US megacap tech stocks continued to surge, pushing the Nasdaq and the Magnificent 7 indices to all-time highs.
- A key support for sentiment came from the resolution of several high-profile trade negotiations ahead of Donald Trump's 1st August deadline. Deals with Japan and the EU set tariffs at 15% making the UK's earlier 10% deal now look favourable. These agreements, widely viewed as victories for the US, removed a major source of policy uncertainty and were reinforced by more constructive talks with China, including the resumption of AI chip exports.
- US economic data surprised positively, with Q2 GDP growth estimated at 3% annualised, driven partly by a sharp fall in imports after heavy stockpiling in Q1. The labour market remained resilient, retail sales improved and consumer confidence picked up. By contrast, UK stagflationary concerns deepened as inflation rose and growth remained weak, with sterling falling 3.8% against the dollar.
- Emerging markets returned 5.7%, helped by a strong Chinese market. However, bond markets were weaker, with US Treasuries returning -0.4% and global bonds -1.5%, reflecting fiscal deficit concerns and sticky inflation.
- All major central banks kept rates on hold, albeit with mixed messages. The ECB was more hawkish around further cuts, the BoE is cautious in the face of higher inflation but is keen to cut rates given economic weakness, while the BoJ, having raised its inflation forecast, is expected to resume policy normalisation with further rate increases. Markets are factoring in a more dovish successor to Chair Powell in 2026, and the likelihood the FOMC will begin to lean in this direction in the months ahead.
- With policy uncertainty easing, risk assets have rallied strongly since April's lows. Valuations in some areas, especially AI-driven stocks, are stretched, suggesting a degree of caution is called for shorter term. However, the tariff deals, resilient US economy and productivity potential of AI support a constructive medium-term outlook, albeit with caution in the short term.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Fact sheet asset allocation percentages are in some cases based on the normalised (or benchmark) asset allocations of investee funds, as opposed to the actual exposures of those funds at the date of the fact sheet. This reflects the expected average allocation over time which will result from decisions to hold particular funds. Nothing contained herein constitutes investment, legal, tax or other advice nor is it to be solely relied on in making an investment or other decision. If you are considering investing in the Momentum Managed Portfolios clients should consult a suitably qualified and approved Financial Adviser. The performance shown represents performance of the Managed Portfolios that are periodically restructured and rebalanced based on the impact of material, economic and market factors that influence MGIM's decision-making on asset allocation. The Managed Portfolios are applied to client accounts by the platform provider but it may take some time for the client accounts to mirror the performance of the Managed Portfolios. It is for this reason that client accounts may not have achieved exactly the same returns as the Managed Portfolios. The performance of the Managed Portfolios is based on the actual performance of the underlying funds included in the portfolios. These performance figures have not been audited by an external body. The value of investments may go down as well as up and the value will depend on fluctuations in financial markets outside MGIM's control, as a result an investor may not get back the amount invested.
