MONTHLY COMMENTARY

- In a reversal of the April sell-off, equity and bond markets generally performed well in May.
- US tech remained dominant, led by Nvidia on the back of yet another extraordinary set of quarterly results, with the company expecting demand for its products to outstrip supply into 2025.
- Following a period of underperformance the UK market is now regaining ground, particularly in the small- and mid-cap space where attractive valuations have piqued interest from private equity and overseas companies.
- Elsewhere, China, facing well-versed structural problems, and hit in May with additional US tariffs on semiconductors and EVs, has taken further steps to stimulate its sluggish economy.
- The uncertainty around the pace at which inflation can be reined in, and the resultant timing and extent of interest rate cuts, continued to generate considerable volatility in bond markets.
- Concerns surrounding sticky inflation spread to the UK and Europe, with monthly inflation prints coming in above expectations in both economies.
- Global developed markets returned 2.6% with emerging markets returning -1.2%. Within developed equities, UK small-caps and Europe were the strongest performers over the month returning 5.7% and 3.4% respectively. Japan and UK large-caps were the laggards, returning -0.4% and 1.7% respectively.
- UK gilts and UK investment grade corporate bonds returned 0.8% and 0.9% in May, whilst US treasuries and US investment grade corporate bonds returned -0.2% and 0.2% respectively, hindered by the dollar which fell 2.0% against the pound.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Factsheet asset allocation percentages are in some cases based on the normalised (or benchmark) asset allocations of investee funds, as opposed to the actual exposures of those funds at the date of the factsheet. This reflects the expected average allocation over time which will result from decisions to hold particular funds.

Nothing contained herein constitutes investment, legal, tax or other advice nor is it to be solely relied on in making an investment or other decision. If you are considering investing in the Momentum Managed Portfolios clients should consult a suitably qualified and approved Financial Adviser. The performance shown represents performance of the Managed Portfolios that are periodically restructured and rebalanced based on the impact of material, economic and market factors that influence MGIM's decision-making on asset allocation. The Managed Portfolios are applied to client accounts by the platform provider but it may take some time for the client accounts to mirror the performance of the Managed Portfolios. It is for this reason that client accounts may not have achieved exactly the same returns as the Managed Portfolios. The performance of the Managed Portfolios is based on the actual performance of the underlying funds included in the portfolios. These performance figures have not been audited by an external body. The value of investments may go down as well as up and the value will depend on fluctuations in financial markets outside MGIM's control, as a result an investor may not get back the amount invested. Past performance is not indicative of future performance and reference to a security is not a recommendation to buy or sell that security.
