Peer group: Dynamic Planner Risk Profile 3. Performance is calculated on a total return basis in GBP terms. The value of the underlying funds and the income generated from them can go down as well as up, and is not guaranteed. Investors may not get back the original amount invested. The value of investments involving exposure to foreign currencies can be affected by currency exchange rate fluctuations. Past performance is not a guide to future performance.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

- Markets rallied in May despite a volatile backdrop dominated by renewed tariff tensions, resilient inflation, and rising bond yields. The prevailing narrative was one of 'TACO': Trump Always Chickens Out, with fears of trade wars subsiding as the US and China agreed to a 90-day negotiation window, cutting tariffs on each other's goods. Trump also postponed proposed 50% tariffs on EU imports, calming recessionary concerns and boosting investor sentiment.
- Equities surged, led by US megacap tech stocks. The S&P 500 returned 5.4%, global developed markets 5.0%, and emerging markets 3.4%. Earnings resilience helped sentiment, with Q1 US EPS growth averaging nearly 13%.
- In contrast, bond markets struggled. Longer-dated yields rose sharply amid concerns over fiscal sustainability. The US 30-year Treasury yield rose 25bps to 4.93%, the highest since before the Global Financial Crisis. Moody's downgrade of US sovereign credit to Aa1, coupled with the House passing Trump's expansive "Big Beautiful Bill Act," reignited focus on America's $36tn national debt. With a forecast fiscal deficit of 6.3% of GDP this year, markets are pricing in a structural premium for US borrowing.
- Other developed markets face similar challenges. UK 30-year gilt yields reached 1998 highs, as April CPI surprised at 3.5% and resilient growth constrained the Bank of England's ability to ease. Japan, with government debt at 260% of GDP, faces policy tightrope walking as the BoJ attempts to normalise rates without triggering market dislocations.
- Central banks remain cautious. The Fed held rates in May and expectations for cuts have been revised down from four to two 25bps reductions in 2025. Markets are adjusting to "higher for longer" rates, with 30-year real yields now at 2.6%, restoring some value to fixed income.
- While the immediate tariff threats have faded, the path ahead remains unpredictable. We recognise the wide range of potential outcomes given current uncertainties, and firmly believe that diversification will be vital, but volatility will create opportunities to add to risk in our portfolios, albeit with caution and patience in the short term.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Fact sheet asset allocation percentages are in some cases based on the normalised (or benchmark) asset allocations of investee funds, as opposed to the actual exposures of those funds at the date of the fact sheet. This reflects the expected average allocation over time which will result from decisions to hold particular funds. Nothing contained herein constitutes investment, legal, tax or other advice nor is it to be solely relied on in making an investment or other decision. If you are considering investing in the Momentum Managed Portfolios clients should consult a suitably qualified and approved Financial Adviser. The performance shown represents performance of the Managed Portfolios that are periodically restructured and rebalanced based on the impact of material, economic and market factors that influence MGIM's decision-making on asset allocation. The Managed Portfolios are applied to client accounts by the platform provider but it may take some time for the client accounts to mirror the performance of the Managed Portfolios. It is for this reason that client accounts may not have achieved exactly the same returns as the Managed Portfolios. The performance of the Managed Portfolios is based on the actual performance of the underlying funds included in the portfolios. These performance figures have not been audited by an external body. The value of investments may go down as well as up and the value will depend on fluctuations in financial markets outside MGIM's control, as a result an investor may not get back the amount invested.
