

Momentum Real Assets Growth & Income Fund Class L GBP Acc

30 June 2026

This is a marketing communication for professional advisors only

Investment objective*

The portfolio aims to achieve a total return of at least 7% per annum including income of at least 3% per annum over the recommended minimum investment horizon (6 years).

The Fund will be actively managed, seeking to achieve its investment objective or gaining exposure to 'real assets' such as real estate or infrastructure related assets by primarily investing in listed companies, including Investment Trusts and Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs), collective investment schemes and other similar schemes. This encompasses a range of asset classes and currencies in varying proportions over time, with an overall bias towards asset classes that have the potential for capital growth.

Manager commentary

- » Investor sentiment remained resilient during June despite heightened geopolitical tensions in the Middle East. While concerns over disruption to global oil supplies initially unsettled markets, these fears eased as the month progressed following signs of de-escalation. The resulting fall in oil prices helped reduce inflation concerns and supported broader risk appetite.
- » Specialist assets generated a positive return overall, with strong performance from infrastructure, property and specialist financials more than offsetting weakness in private equity.
- » Property was the largest contributor to returns, led by Segro which rose 21.1% during the month after the company rejected an unsolicited £12.6bn takeover proposal from Prologis. The indicative offer valued Segro at 925p per share, representing a 25% premium to the previous closing price, but was rejected by the board as it believed the proposal significantly undervalued the company's long-term growth prospects. Management highlighted the strength of its operating platform, balance sheet and extensive development pipeline, including substantial embedded value from future developments and its growing data centre exposure.
- » Infrastructure was also a key contributor, driven by Bluefield Solar Income Fund, which gained 16.5% over the month following agreement of a recommended cash acquisition by Drax Bidco. The offer valued the trust at 92.574p per share, plus a 2.25p interim dividend, representing a total consideration of 94.824p per share and a 31% premium to the previous closing price. However, the offer represents a 9% discount to the unaudited NAV of 104.52p per share (31 March 2026).
- » Defensive assets were broadly flat over the month. Nominal UK gilts delivered modest positive returns, while index-linked gilts weakened as the decline in near-term inflation expectations reduced the value of their inflation protection.
- » June's corporate activity served as a reminder that significant value remains available across real assets. The takeover approaches for both Segro and Bluefield Solar Income Fund highlight the disconnect between share prices and the underlying value of these companies, providing scope for further re-rating across these sectors should sentiment continue to improve.
