Fund performance is calculated on a total return basis (including distributions), net of all fees and in GBP terms. The value of the underlying funds and the income generated from them can go down as well as up, and is not guaranteed. Investors may not get back the original amount invested. The value of investments involving exposure to foreign currencies can be affected by currency exchange rate fluctuations. The CPI +5% target was introduced in 2020. Past performance is not a guide to future performance.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

- We have introduced the Schroder Emerging Markets Value fund, exiting the iShares Asia Pacific Dividend ETF. This strategy is managed by Schroder's renowned Global Value team and the team's contrarian, bottom-up investment philosophy is grounded in 150 years of market data, demonstrating that lowly valued securities deliver excess returns over the long term. The fund focuses exclusively on the cheapest securities within the emerging markets universe, with a disciplined and consistent process. By adding this differentiated strategy, we have enhanced our emerging markets exposure, particularly in underrepresented regions outside of Asia.
- We also introduced Real Estate Credit Investments (RECI), a closed-ended fund focusing on high-quality real estate debt across Western Europe, targeting large, well-capitalised and experienced institutional borrowers with low loan-to-value ratios. Compared to history, loan-to-value and leverage are near all-time lows, while the dividend yield and loan seniority are at historical highs. Despite uncertainties around property debt with elevated interest rates and the outlook for office space and retail, RECI's focus on high quality assets and diverse sub-sectors mitigates risks.
- Several holdings within the portfolio performed well in December. Digital 9 Infrastructure rose by 27.4% after announcing the $42m sale of its Emic-1 project, releasing the company from additional construction commitments and the proceeds will be used to repay its revolving credit facility.
- Within Private Equity, Schroders Capital Global Innovation Trust rose by 14.8% following the announcement that its continuation vote will be brought forward. The Trust trades at a significant discount to NAV, making possibility of a managed wind-down attractive allowing investors to recover their capital closer to NAV. Further details are expected in January 2025. Chrysalis Investments returned 12.2% following the completion of the sale of its Featurespace holding, delivering a 2.7x return on invested capital (rising to 3x if the amount held in escrow is paid in full). This strengthened liquidity, supporting ongoing share buybacks and capital return initiatives, providing a positive backdrop with potential future upside tied to portfolio events like Klarna's anticipated IPO.
- Marston's returned 12.5% driven by strong financial results, including 13% year-on-year EBITDA growth, margin expansion and reduced net debt. Strong Christmas bookings also suggest potential future growth.

¹The Fund performance refers to the 'B' Inc share class with the exception of performance prior to 26.03.2012 which is calculated using the 'A' Inc share class, unadjusted for the lower fees of the 'B' Inc share class. ²The Historic Net Yield reflects distributions declared over the past twelve months as a percentage of the unit price, as at the date shown. It does not include any preliminary charge and investors may be subject to tax on their distributions. A portion of the Fund's expenses are charged to Capital. This has the effect of increasing the distribution(s) for the year and constraining the Fund's capital performance to an equivalent extent.
