The Fund performance is calculated on a total return basis, net of all fees and in US dollar terms. NAV to NAV figures have been used for the performance calculations. The performance is calculated for the Fund. The individual investor performance may differ, as a result of various factors, including the actual investment date. Investment performance calculations are available for verification upon request. Annualised returns are period returns re-scaled to a period of 1 year. ## Manager commentary**

- February was dominated by the escalation of US-Iran tensions. On the final day of the month, joint US and Israeli strikes targeted Tehran, resulting in the death of Ayatollah Ali Khamenei and several senior Iranian officials. Markets reacted immediately: oil prices spiked on concerns that the Strait of Hormuz could be disrupted, prompting a rapid repricing of risk assets and a sharp rise in inflation expectations.
- Precious metals were highly volatile but ended the month positive. Silver gained 18% after significant intra month declines. Broader risk assets rose unevenly. The trend of returns broadening out continued, as the US equity market underperformed, one of the few markets to post negative returns. Japan gained over 10%, supported by the outcome of the Takaichi election while the yen was largely stable. UK equities rose nearly 7%, emerging markets gained more than 5%, and Europe 3.5%.
- Value and low volatility equities outperformed. Growth equities recorded a fourth consecutive monthly decline, with the 'Mag 7' index falling 6.5%. February also saw a pronounced sell off in software as a service companies viewed as vulnerable to disruption from artificial intelligence, despite many maintaining proprietary data and intellectual property.
- Listed real assets posted some of the strongest returns. Global property gained 6%, and infrastructure 7%. These sectors benefitted from their defensive characteristics and sensitivity to bond market movements; global bonds delivered small positive returns. Alternative assets, including gold, supported diversified multi asset portfolios.
- Macro data provided limited support. US Q4 growth slowed from the previous quarter but remained ahead of Europe and the UK, which grew 0.1% quarter on quarter. Labour market data in the US softened further. Central banks in the UK and Europe left rates unchanged. However, rising geopolitical risk and the associated upward pressure on inflation expectations reduced the likelihood of rate cuts in the near term.
- Overall, February delivered positive returns for many mainstream assets but also highlighted vulnerabilities in asset light industries facing disruption. Heightened geopolitical risk centred on the Strait of Hormuz remains a key factor for global growth, inflation, and market stability. Our multi asset portfolios remain diversified, with an emphasis on quality and moderate to low interest rate exposure relative to strategic benchmarks.

Financial year-end TER†	1.31%

†The TERs are the percentages of the net asset value of the class of the Financial Product incurred as expenses relating to the administration of the Financial Product. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. A current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. The TER to 31.12.25 is based on data for the period from 31.12.24 to 31.12.25 and the financial year-end TER is based on data for the financial year-end to 30.06.25. Cost ratios are calculated using historical actual and/or estimated data and are provided solely as an indication/guide as to the annual expenses/costs that could be incurred. These ratios do not represent any current/actual charges or fees.

Risk warnings and important information. Collective investments are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated on a total return basis, after deduction of all fees and commissions and in US dollar terms. Forward pricing is used.

The Fund invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. This could result in a higher fee structure for the Fund. Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds, the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested. The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the funds will achieve their stated objectives. The Fund will contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of an investor's investment and the income arising from it will therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

Foreign securities may have additional material risks, depending on the specific risks affecting that country, such as: potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds; macroeconomic risks; political risks; foreign exchange risks; tax risks; settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the fund's dealing days.

No borrowing will be undertaken by the Fund except for the purpose of meeting short term liquidity requirements. Borrowings will not exceed 10% of the net asset value of the Fund. For such purpose, the securities of the Fund may be pledged. No scrip borrowing will be allowed. The Fund is not permitted to enter into any form of borrowing or loan arrangement with other cells of the Company nor other collective investment schemes of the Manager.

While derivative instruments may be used for hedging purposes, the risk remains that the relevant instrument may not necessarily fully correlate to the investments in the Fund and accordingly not fully reflect changes in the value of the investment, giving rise to potential net losses.

Forward contracts are neither traded on exchanges nor standardised. Principals dealing in these markets are also not required to make markets in the currencies they trade, with the result that these markets may experience periods of illiquidity. Banks and dealers will normally act as principals and usually each transaction is negotiated on an individual basis.

The Manager has the right to close the Fund to new investors, in order to manage it more efficiently, in accordance with its mandate.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment. Investors are reminded that any forecasts and/or commentary included in this MDD are not guaranteed to occur, and merely reflect the interpretation of the public information and propriety research available to the Investment Manager at a particular point in time.
