The value of the underlying funds and the income generated from them can go down as well as up, and is not guaranteed. Investors may not get back the original amount invested. The value of investments involving exposure to foreign currencies can be affected by currency exchange rate fluctuations. Past performance is not a guide to future performance.

Monthly commentary

- The year opened with a surge in geopolitical tension. US strikes in Venezuela led to Maduro's capture and mass protests in Iran leading to thousands of deaths shocked the world, which was followed by Washington deploying an armada to the region. The US's threats to take Greenland by force incited anger from Europe and the killing of two protestors by ICE patrols in Minneapolis sparked further rage domestically.
- Despite the pace and scale of events, markets largely looked through geopolitical noise, reflecting investors' growing tendency to discount hard-to-quantify "Trump risk". Focus shifted back to fundamentals. In the US (making up more than 70% of the MSCI World Index), Q4 earnings season opened strongly, with solid revenue and earnings growth and broad upside surprises. The economy remained stable, inflation contained, and the Federal Reserve left rates unchanged in January. Equity leadership broadened: small caps outperformed, with the Russell 2000 up 3.4% while the "Magnificent Seven" fell 2.1%.
- UK and European equities began 2026 with solid gains across sectors, reflecting improved confidence after prolonged macro uncertainty. Both regions benefited from investor rotation away from the US, viewed as increasingly concentrated in technology. The FTSE 100 rose early in the year, supported by strength in energy and financials.
- Asian markets also underpinned global risk appetite. Korea's equity market surged another 21% in January, extending last year's strong run, while the broader region advanced despite weaker Japanese equities amid yen strength. Emerging markets rallied as risk sentiment remained firm and the US dollar fell 1.4% over the month.
- Bond yields in the US, UK and Europe rose over the quarter. In the US, resilient data reinforced expectations of a "higher-for-longer" rate backdrop. In Europe and the UK, yields climbed amid fiscal concerns and, in the UK, political uncertainty.
- Precious metals extended their run, with gold up 11% and silver 17%, signalling persistent concerns about broader risks and the value of diversification into quality assets.

Important information

Prior to 15.04.2024 the Momentum Passive Plus Cautious Portfolio was known as pi Cautious Portfolio.

Fact sheet geographic allocation percentages are in some cases based on the normalised (or benchmark) asset allocations of investee funds, as opposed to the actual exposures of those funds at the date of the fact sheet. This reflects the expected average allocation over time which will result from decisions to hold particular funds.

Nothing contained herein constitutes investment, legal, tax or other advice nor is it to be solely relied on in making an investment or other decision. If you are considering investing in the Momentum Passive Plus Portfolios ("Portfolios") clients should consult a suitably qualified and approved Financial Adviser. The performance shown represents performance of the Portfolios that are periodically restructured and rebalanced based on the impact of material, economic and market factors that influence MGIM's decision-making on asset allocation. The Portfolios are applied to client accounts by the platform provider but it may take some time for the client accounts to mirror the performance of the Portfolios. It is for this reason that client accounts may not have achieved exactly the same returns as the Portfolios. The performance of the Portfolios is based on the actual performance of the underlying funds included in the portfolios. These performance figures have not been audited by an external body. The value of investments may go down as well as up and the value will depend on fluctuations in financial markets outside MGIM's control, as a result an investor may not get back the amount invested. Past performance is not indicative of future performance and reference to a security is not a recommendation to buy or sell that security.
